

My Product Lists

"My Product Lists" is the new name for the updated version of the "My Projects" application in MyCommScope - redesigned for a significantly improved user experience & increased functionality.

My Product Lists

Gather and organize your product lists, download specifications and request a quote.

What is it?

"My Product Lists" makes it easy for designers, planners and engineers to create their own custom lists of CommScope products to use as B.O.M.s, shopping lists, mini-catalogs, request a quote or to download specifications.

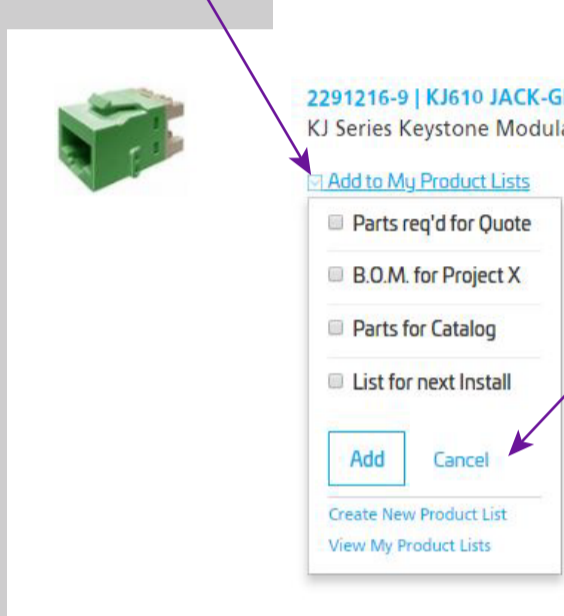

What's new?

Following a comprehensive review, including user-surveys, these are the significant changes:

1

Added a "drop-down" menu to product listing pages for easy access to all features

2

Fewer clicks required to add products to multiple lists and create new lists

3

Name changed to a more descriptive "My Product Lists"

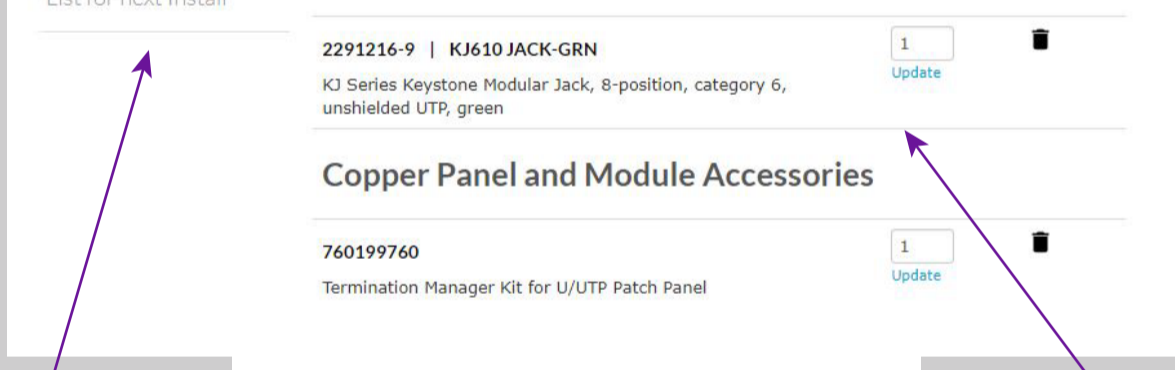

4

Added options to "Duplicate" and "Share"

5

Lists now display "latest at the top"

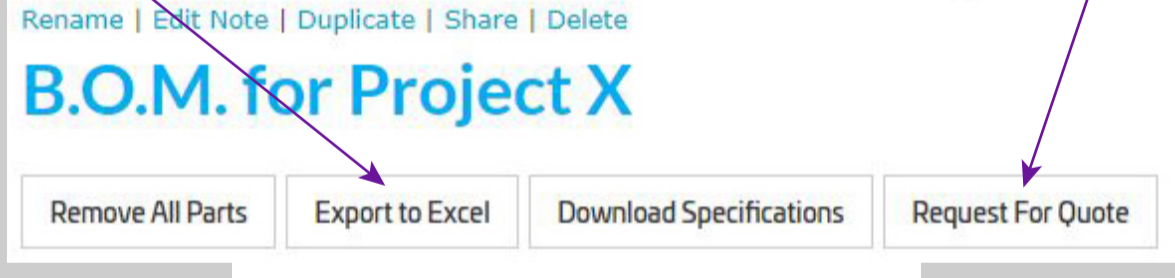

6

Created a more intuitive and user-friendly page layout

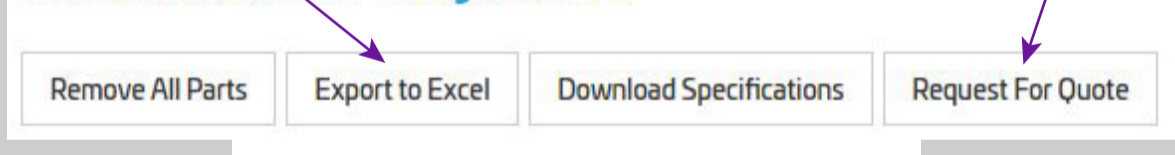

7

Significantly improved the content of the Excel spreadsheet export

8

Fully automated the "Request for Quote" feature

We believe that CommScope's "My Projects" has been one of our best-kept-secrets. When we spoke to the app's dedicated fans, they gave us plenty of insight into how we could improve it.

We have listened to those fans, taken their suggestions and, along with several other user experience improvements, completely overhauled the application.

Check out the new "My Product Lists" app in the MyCommScope login area on the homepage.

Don't have a MyCommScope login?
- simply complete the registration form.

